

National Bank of Arizona Announces Appointment of Lin Sue Flood and Paul Penzone to Its Advisory Board

Phoenix, AZ (February 17, 2026) – National Bank of Arizona is proud to announce the addition of two highly respected Arizona leaders, Lin Sue Flood and Paul Penzone, to its Advisory Board. Both individuals bring decades of experience in public service, community engagement, and strategic leadership, further strengthening NB|AZ's mission to support Arizona's communities and businesses.

Lin Sue Flood currently serves as the Director of Community Engagement at Hospice of the Valley, one of the nation's largest not-for-profit hospice providers, where she has worked since 2015. In her role, she oversees marketing, public relations, business development, volunteer programs, and community-facing initiatives designed to connect families with essential care resources. Flood is a nine-time Emmy Award-winning reporter, previously serving as a primary news anchor at 12 News/KPNX for more than 30 years.

Paul Penzone is the Vice President and Chief Community Relations Officer at Blue Cross Blue Shield of Arizona, where he leads community initiatives, strategic outreach, and organizational culture transformation. Prior to this role, Penzone served as the Sheriff of Maricopa County, elected in 2016 following a 21-year career with the Phoenix Police Department, including seven years leading the nationally recognized "Silent Witness" program.

"Lin Sue Flood and Paul Penzone reflect the values that matter most to National Bank of Arizona—service, integrity, and unwavering commitment to our communities," said Mark Stebbings, CEO of National Bank of Arizona. "Their leadership and deep Arizona roots will provide invaluable insight as we continue advancing opportunities for families, entrepreneurs, and organizations throughout the state."
